

All schools we work with are struggling to keep up financially and technologically. We need high-speed broadband in all schools to allow equal access and shrink the digital divide. This is much more important than any mandatory testing and funding should reflect that. Thank you.